

The 7 Universal Principles

Ancient Wisdom for a New Human Consciousness

These principles have an order, and yet they are all connected and one could not work without the others. Mastering these principles is a continuous process and THE most important step for your personal and spiritual growth. Make it a priority and share this information with others as well.

1. The Principle of Spirit

The universe is mental. Everything that exists is spirit and created out of it. The universal spirit created matter to experience itself within it. Everything is conscious and conscious is everything.

2. The Principle of Correspondence

Everything there is has an analogy. The great is in the smallest, the smallest is in the greatest, as above so below, as within so without. All is equally valid and important from the smallest to the biggest aspects.

3. The Principle of Vibration

Everything is vibrating; nothing is truly fix or solid. Spirit vibrates at very high and matter at very low frequencies. Spirit alters vibration and attracts whatever it is focusing on. Intent equals frequency.

4. The Principle of Polarity

Everything is dual and has two sides within its existence. Opposites are different aspects of the same thing and are identical in nature. Poles can be balanced, all paradoxes can be reconciled.

5. The Principle of Rhythm

Everything ebbs and flows, increases and decreases, what breathes in needs to breathe out. Rhythm is the compensation but nothing is ever the same. The rhythmic spiral can be balanced, the swing can be neutralized.

6. The Principle of Cause and Effect

Every cause has an effect and vice versa. Every thought, every feeling, every action be it consciously or unconsciously creates a cause which will have an effect. There are no effects without causes.

7. The Principle of Gender

Everything has a male and female aspect. Gender manifests on all planes and seeks unification. It is also the principle of sexuality, the impulse of life. It is transformation and creation due to the reunification of opposing poles.

Start Your Holistic Life Transformation with the 7 Universal Principles!

holisticlifetransformation.com